LAMP SHADES FROM LEAF FIBRES – ECO FRIENDLY PRODUCED

The organic lampshades are handwoven from renewable materials like rattan and abaca. Even the sourcing process of the materials is entirely manual. Did you know that abaca comes from a banana tree and is actually a waste product? The organic design of the lampshade is an eye-catcher in every room without leaving a negative footprint behind.

- Made from renewable leaf fibre
- Handcrafted
- No fertilizers used
- Organic design
- Ethically sourced

THE MAKERS THE LAMP SHADE WEAVERS FROM JAVA, INDONESIA

The lampshade workshops are located in Java, Indonesia and vary in size; from start ups to more professional entrepreneurs. They all have one thing in common; Their designs combined with organic materials and high quality weaving are eye-catching!

They all aim to work with quickly renewable materials that are locally sourced and use all materials as efficient as possible. By doing so they minimize a negative foot print on our planet and without harming the rain forest.

The workshops provide their local communities with jobopportunities which is important in rural areas where most people suffer from poverty.
